SA COUNCIL MINUTES

May 19, 1964

The meeting was opened with a devotional.

Loverd Peacock was absent. David Burkes attended the meeting.

Bob gave a report on the sales of "Highlights". Except for a few records reserved for Council and Cabinet members, we sold out at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, the same day they went on sale. We do not have enough copies on reserve to meet the demand, but Bob is undecided as to whether he should re-order. The minimum number is 50.

The word, quiet, was misspelled on the plaque which is to accompany Mrs. Stapleton's picture. The jeweler has indicated he will not replace it; therefore, another plaque will probably have to be bought.

The lost and found cabinet will cost $40. Mr. Lott Tucker will have it built.

Linda gave a report on the possibility of opening the recreation room in Kendall on Sundays for couples. Mrs. Pickens said she would have to talk to Dr. Ganus. Linda saw Dr. Ganus herself. He as well as Mrs. Pickens mentioned that the Emerald Room has been offered every year for recreational purposes, but the Council has never received the suggested offer with much enthusiasm. (The SA has done nothing about this offer heretofore because of the problem of supervision.) Both Dr. Ganus and Mrs. Pickens wondered about supervision of the Kendall recreation room. They also wondered if some of the girls in Kendall might object. Janie talked with Mrs. Goodwin about the matter; she did not object to the idea but said Mrs. Pickens was the person to consult. The matter was dropped by the Council since there are less than two weeks remaining in this school year.

Expenses will probably turn out as Bob predicted in his treasurer's report at the last meeting. The Council authorized him to disburse the remainder of this year's funds as he indicated last week it should be done. The new Council will be left $50; the lost and found cabinet will cost $40; a new plaque will cost about $20; the remainder of the funds will go on the cinemascope project. A final treasurer's report will be posted next week. At the moment, some figures are still outstanding.

Dr. Gilliam asked about the report on the orientation study. Joel said it would be ready next week.

Linda commented that Dr. Sewell is requiring his students to read the academic report. Dr. Gilliam, at the Council's request, will try to see that the report is read or considered at the faculty's fall conference. All the nine weeks' summaries of the Council's activities will be posted on the SA information board.

Joel thanked the Council for its cooperation and work during the year. Dr. Gilliam dismissed the last meeting with a prayer.
